RESOLUTIONS, Be it Resolved by the Democracy of Barber nty, in convention assembled; 1. That the democracy of Barber county en lorses the late administration of Grover Cleveland, and especially his efforts to lighten taxation in behalf of the laborer. 2. That we denounce the present system of the adjournment of the county conventies as unjust and inimical to the welfare and perpetuity of this government. That by it trusts and combines are fostered, thereby in creasing the cost of necessaries and that the which we have been requested to published the cost of necessaries and that the farmer and producer who needs protection are left wholly at their mercy. That agriculture and kindred industries have been taxed to fos-ter such infant industries as the iron and cotton manufactories until they have assur colossal proportions, and we demand that on e presentativés use every honorable means to lighten the burdes of the tolling masses.

3. That a fluotuating currency is detrimental to the business prosperity of this country and we denounce the republican theory of making the national debt perpetual and demand that so long as the present system of finance is practiced that the surplus should be used in ecreasing the public debt, and demand of our statives in congress to pass such laws that the currency of the country may be dis tributed to the people at less cost. 4. We demand that the finances of Barber county be administered in an economical manner, thereby lessening taxation.
